"Rome Total War Barbarian. up to.Q: How to add a fake application to google play console? I want to have fake applications for testing purposes on my android app. Is it possible to add application to google play console, but with a fake package? I have tried uploading a dummy application and generating test key from that dummy app, and I am able to get a test code for my test dummy app. But I am not able to simulate the behavior of a real application. A: From Google Google Account support "The Service IDs for test accounts do not expire, and users can use them to identify their testing accounts when they attempt to create test accounts." So, to create test accounts you can use test accounts, but not to generate test keys to use with fake apps. Q: How to set custom locale for Spring Security I want to localize my login page in Spring Security, in other words, I want to have two languages in my project: English and

Russian. When I use Spring Security default configuration, the page is localized for the browser (in this case English), but when I use the code below, the login form is still in English: I still can't set the access-denied-page parameter to '/login/access-denied.html?lang=ru'. Does anyone know how to do it? A: You need to write your own WebSecurityConfigurerAdapter to set the desired locale. For example:
